FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Allegheny Energy Announces Agreement to Sell Wheatland Generating Facility

GREENSBURG, Pa., May 10, 2005 – Allegheny Energy, Inc. (NYSE:AYE) today announced that its subsidiary, Allegheny Energy Supply Company, LLC, has signed an agreement to sell its Wheatland generating facility to two affiliates of Cinergy Corporation (NYSE: CIN)—PSI Energy, Inc. and the Cincinnati Gas & Electric Company—for approximately $100 million.

“The sale of Wheatland is another step in our plan to reduce debt and refocus on our core business,” said Paul Evanson, Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer of Allegheny Energy.

Wheatland, a 512-megawatt gas-fired peaking facility located in Knox County, Indiana, was acquired by Allegheny in May 2001. The Wheatland sale is subject to certain closing conditions and federal regulatory approvals. Allegheny anticipates that the transaction will close in the fourth quarter of 2005.

Forward-Looking Statements

In addition to historical information, this release contains a number of "forward-looking statements" as defined in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Words such as anticipate, expect, project, intend, plan, believe, and words and terms of similar substance used in connection with any discussion of future plans, actions, or events identify forward-looking statements. These include statements with respect to: regulation and the status of retail generation service supply competition in states served by Allegheny Energy's distribution business, Allegheny Power; financing plans; demand for energy and the cost and availability of raw materials, including coal; provider-of-last-resort and power supply contracts; results of litigation; results of operations; internal controls and procedures; capital expenditures; status and condition of plants and equipment; regulatory matters; and accounting issues. Forward-looking statements involve estimates, expectations and projections and, as a result, are subject to risks and uncertainties. There can be no assurance that actual results will not materially differ from expectations. Actual results have varied materially and unpredictably from past expectations. Factors that could cause actual results to differ materially include, among others, the following: changes in the price of power and fuel for electric generation; general economic and business conditions; changes in access to capital markets; complications or other factors that render it difficult or impossible to obtain necessary lender consents or regulatory authorizations on a timely basis; environmental regulations; the results of regulatory proceedings, including proceedings related to rates; changes in industry capacity, development and other activities by Allegheny Energy's competitors; changes in the weather and other natural phenomena; changes in the underlying inputs and assumptions, including market conditions used to estimate the fair values of commodity contracts; changes in laws and regulations applicable to Allegheny Energy, its markets or its activities; the loss of any significant customers or suppliers; dependence on other electric transmission and gas transportation systems and their constraints or availability; changes in PJM, including changes to participant rules and tariffs; the effect of accounting policies issued periodically by accounting standard-setting bodies; and the continuing effects of global instability, terrorism and war. Additional risks and uncertainties are identified and discussed in Allegheny Energy's reports filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.
